

Proposal Abstract:

I proposed to observe the pulsar triple system J0337+1715 to search for a potential planet. This system has one pulsar and two white dwarfs. I aim to find out if a planet exists in a wide orbit around this system, as proposed by the literature. The detection of such a planet could improve the test of the strong equivalence principle and the understanding of the evolution of complex star systems.