

Proposal Abstract:

We propose to measure the rotation measures (RMs) of 155 halo pulsars currently without RMs in the observable sky of FAST, benefited from the high sensitivity of FAST. These new measurements will give more stringent constraint on the strength and structure of the halo magnetic fields.